Dear readers,

welcome to our latest ECOEMPOWER Newsletter. With this issue, we are approaching the final stretch of our three-year journey supporting energy communities across Europe.

In this newsletter, you will find a last-minute invitation to our Final Conference on 2 July, insights from our recent project meeting in the Italian Alps, our brand-new Whitebook, an updated set of Policy Briefs including a new brief on energy sharing, and a reminder of our ECOEMPOWER Toolbox that gathers tools and resources for practitioners.

Best wishes from the ECOEMPOWER consortium!

Registration for the Final Conference on 2 July local energy communities continues. Our Final Conference is the place where we bring together lessons, tools and people who want to replicate them.

On 2 July 2026, we invite you to join us online for “Scaling One Stop Shops for Energy Communities Across Europe”. The conference will showcase hands-on experiences from our five pilot regions, concrete examples of One Stop Shops in practice, and ready-to-use tools to support your own initiatives.

When?

📅 July 2nd, 2026 | 09:00 - 10:30 CEST

You can find the full agenda and registration details on our website.

New: ECOEMPOWER Whitebook "Voices from the Grid"

After three years of working with pilot regions, municipalities, energy communities and citizens, we have collected stories, lessons and policy recommendations in our ECOEMPOWER Whitebook “Voices from the Grid”.

The Whitebook combines insights from legal, technical, social and economic perspectives and translates them into concrete recommendations for local authorities, One Stop Shops and practitioners. It highlights what has worked in our fifteen pilot sites, where barriers remain, and how others can build on these experiences.

compact yet rich reference that you can use in strategy processes, workshops or policy discussions.

Alpine Views and Energy Vision: Final Project Meeting in Pozza di Fassa

In May, our consortium met in Pozza di Fassa, Italy, for what will be our final on-site project meeting. Surrounded by the Dolomites, partners used this setting to look back at three years of collaboration – and to look ahead at how the project's results can live on in local ecosystems and in new initiatives.

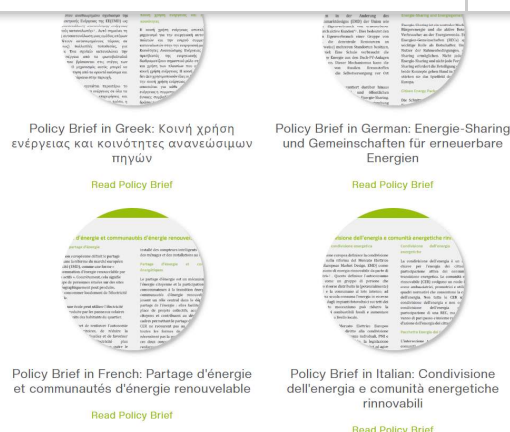

A detailed recap of the meeting, including key takeaways and photos from the region, is now available on our website under “Alpine Views – Energy Vision”.
